Jim Fairchild

For nearly 2 decades of unselfish generosity and exemplary commitment

Jim Fairchild is the longest-serving volunteer with Foundry's Cooking Mission—18 years. He began work with the group in 1992 two years after the group started its service as part of Foundry's AIDS Mission.

The Cooking Mission—which is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year—meets in the FUMC kitchen two Saturday mornings a month. The mission prepares meals, then packages, and provides them to groups that help senior citizens and people living with HIV/AIDS. Since it began in 1990, the Cooking Mission has prepared more than more than 30,000 meals.

Jim, you are our premiere angel. Thanks to you, thousands more persons living with HIV/AIDS have received a much-needed helping hand. On their behalf and for the inspiration to volunteer you provide all of us, we thank you!
